Continuing Education in Patient Safety: Massive Open Online Courses as a New Training Tool

1. According to the World Health Organization, one in how many patients experience adverse effects?
   A. 5.
   B. 10.
   C. 25.
   D. 100.

2. What percentage of adverse effects is considered avoidable?
   A. 50%.
   B. 60%.
   C. 75%.
   D. 95%.

3. Massive open online courses (MOOCs) are based on which principles?
   A. They are massive, ubiquitous, and free.
   B. They are free and involve face-to-face interactions.
   C. They are massive, online, and require a registration fee.
   D. They are global, payment is required, and lack student interaction.

4. The approach of most MOOCs includes networks, content, and which of the following?
   A. Delivery.
   B. Tasks.
   C. Collaboration.
   D. Evaluation.

5. What is the benefit of the use of a connectionist learning model?
   A. Shared experiences.
   B. Cost effectiveness.
   C. Student interactions.
   D. Minimal interventions.

6. MOOCs are attractive because they:
   A. Present audiovisual content.
   B. Bring knowledge to remote locations.
   C. Encourage interdisciplinary work.
   D. Disseminate a culture of safety.

7. In this study, which tool was used by students at least once?
   A. The general forum.
   B. Mass e-mails.
   C. Questions and answers.
   D. YouTube.
8. What was the main reason for withdrawal from the course?
   A. Lack of time.
   B. Unfamiliarity with the subject.
   C. Lack of interest in the topic.
   D. Competing demands.

9. What percentage of American universities were uncertain whether they will create MOOCs as an educational strategy?
   A. 32.7.
   B. 37.2.
   C. 42.9.
   D. 51.5.

10. A criticism of the MOOC format is that:
    A. The visual layout is unattractive.
    B. Active participation is not encouraged.
    C. The structure does not encourage independent learning.
    D. Teachers are not accessible enough.

11. Successful completion of the course was assessed by:
    A. Submission of the written work.
    B. A predetermined score on evaluation questions.
    C. Contribution to the forum postings.
    D. Viewing all of the modules.