

"Cabin" by Michael Alice

Michael Alice has shown interest in art since early childhood. He took art classes at the age of 8, and continued with his art in high school. He attended Hussain School of Art in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and later attended Philadelphia College, taking courses in children's book illustration and painting. Although diagnosed with schizophrenia, Michael is stable and happy, spending much of his time painting.

doi:10.3928/02793695-20181218-01