

"The Butterflies" by Natalie Thomas

Natalie Thomas was diagnosed with schizophrenia and depression when she was 7 years old. She began painting in the 8th grade with the encouragement of her art teacher. After a hiatus from painting at age 23, she began to paint again at age 27. Natalie says, "My love of art never dies. It will always be in my heart, body and mind."